The results of Tuesday's election show clearly that the Republican party must neither be careless nor overconfident if it is to hold the State next November.

It is evident that the independent voter is abroad in large numbers.

Democratic crimes turned Democratic Jersey City over to the Republicans. Republican mistakes have helped the Democrats a long step on the road to winning it back.

Trenton, Elizabeth and Camden Republicans made a gallant showing, and the brethren in Paterson and Passaic easily held their own.

Of course Mayor-elect Seymour doesn't want any suggestions from The Tribune, but it seems opportune to remark that he cannot well do less than appoint Colonel E. L. Price as City Counsel in recognition of his successful management of the campaign.

Two years ago the people of Newark rejected James M. Seymour by a plurality of 4,795. Since then Mr. Seymour has done nothing to strengthen himself with the voters. The inference from this is that it was more a question of beating Lebkuecher than of electing Seymour.

The citizens of Newark had nothing against Mayor Lebkuecher personally, but through him they were striking at some of his unpopular ad-

A careful analysis of Newark's vote is far from showing that Newark is a Democratic city. It was an open secret that the Democratic machine was more confident of electing George R. Gray to the Board of Works than it was of landing James M. Seymour in the Mayor's chair, and all the efforts of the organization were devoted to that end. Yet Gray ran 1,593 votes behind

At every municipal election in Newark it has been the invariable custom to pick out the vote on City Home Trustee as the one furnishing the soundest basis for comparison of party strength. The reason for this is that the nominees of both parties are sure of election, and there is consequently, no reason for trading or cutting. On Tuesday the Republican candidate for City Home Trustee had 1,966 votes more than the Democratic candidate. This seems to indicate that on a fair party vote Newark is Republican by about 2,000.

George R. Gray, one of the Democratic candidates for the Board of Works, had 16,485 votes. Two years ago the high man on the Democratic ticket, James E. Fleming, had 11,604. Two years ago the Republicans got out a full vote; the Democrats didn't. On Tuesday the process was re-

ALL ABOUT A HIGH BOARD FENCE.

IT LEADS TO AN ARREST, ATTEMPTS AT INDICT. MENT AND A DAMAGE SUIT FOR $10,000.

Paterson, April 15 (Special).-William J. Klanburg of Clifton, to-day instituted suit in the Circuit Court for $19,000 damages against his neighbor. James Clancy. The litigants are among the bestknown residents of Clifton, and the suit is the out come of a bitter fight over a high board fence which Clancy erected "to prevent some people from attending to the business of their neighbors." Klanourg regarded the fence as an unsightly object, holdburg regarded the fence as an unsignity object, holding him up to the ridicule of his neighbors, and he chopped it down, pleading in justification that it had been erected on his property. Clancy went before Justice Hamilton Ross, of Passaic, and Klanburg was arrested as he was about to board a train to attend to business in New-York. His business and reputation in the period of his detention, he sileges, were damaged $1,900. The same amount is claimed because of the fence and $5,00 because of the malicious energy displayed by Clancy before two Grand Juries, when he tried to have Klanburg

THE SECRETARY OF THE ALLEGED TRUST EX PLAINS THE NUMBERING SYSTEM.

In the hearing in the suit against the American Tobacco Company in Newark yesterday Joslah Brown, secretary of the company, continued his testimony as to the numbering system of shipping the revenue stamp of the box, and it was done to protect the brand. If prices were cut, or goods damaged, the company could identify the consignee to whom the goods were originally shipped. Each consignee had his own number. The plan, he acknowledged, enabled the company to ascertain who supplied the goods to dealers selling anti-trust cigarettes. The system was still in use, except

The Vice-Chancelior permitted the questions, but said he had not determined how far beyond that point he would permit the examination to go. The fact was elicited that all the company's goods are now sold in Texas at list prices, and a credit of 40 cents a thousand is allowed the point that under the search and seizure clauses of the State and United States Constitution, the United States and United States Constitution, the United States Supreme Court had decided that a defendant could not be compelled to produce his books and papers in court to be used against himself or his property. He read the syllabus of the case referred to, and argued the point at length, declaring that, as counsel for the defendant, he objected to the witness using further the list of consigness in a book belonging to the defendant company. The Vice-Chancellor said he would consider the point raised in the recess. Secretary Brown, continuing, said in reply to a question that dealers who had refused to come in under the new agreement could obtain the company's goods by purchase at list prices. One firm cut off was Barrett Brothers, of Auburn, N. Y. The firm became the distributers of the National Cigarette Company's goods, "not made by a rust."

Baidwin, Nolton & Lake, of Memphis, Tenn., and Barnett & Winter, of Oklahoma, were cut off at the request of the Wholesale Grocers' Associations of the Wholesale Grocers' Associations of the Wholesale Grocers' Associations of sales. ALL THE MUNICIPAL BOARDS IN NEW-ARK AGAINST HIM.

REPUBLICANS REALLY CARRIED THE ELECTION-A CLOSE CONTEST FOR THE BOARD OF

> RESPONSIBLE FOR LEB-KUECHER'S DEFEAT.

Beyond the election of a Mayor who will have few offices to fill, the Democrats in Newark achieved a barren victory in the charter election. The vote on trustee of the City Home shows the normal strength of the two parties. For this office, the Republican piurality is 1,873, a Republican loss from the plurality last year of over 981. Mayor-elect Seymour's piurality is 3,374. On the head of the ticket, as well as for members of the Board of Works, the Republicans carry the city.

The Republicans retain two-thirds majorities in the Common Council and the Board of Education, and control the Board of Works, having all of the five Commissioners of the Board. The veto of the Mayor can be overriden in all the municipal boards. Mayor Seymour's term begins on May 1, under the new law, and then his troubles will begin. The defeat of Mayor Lebkuecher was produced by 'the anger of many who could not use him for their purposes, by politicians who did not like his economies in government, by Christian citizenship members who blamed him because he did not close all the saloons on Sunday, by Grand Army men, who thought he did not appoint enough veterans to public offices, by colored men because of some fancied grievance, and by all the disappointed office-seekers. Mayor-elect Seymour will have nearly all of these conflicting elements to harmonize with his administration, and also the old Democratic bosses to satisfy.

The vote on Commissioners of the Board of Works was so close between Gray (Democrat) and Ulrich (Republican) that both parties claimed the election on Tuesday night, and the Republicans were disposed to concede the point. A revision of the returns yesterday showed that Ulrich had 16,525 votes and Gray 16,485, a plurality of 40, making the Board of Works solidly Republican.

The new Council and Board of Education will be as follows:

either Newark or Elizabeth. In Newark the Democrats did not dare attempt any "crooked" work worth speaking of because of the fear of an energetic and alert Republican Sheriff. The Democrats of Elizabeth took the extraordinary precaution of hiring twenty-five Pinkerton detectives to guard against possible illegalities on the other side.

The Rev. S. Edward Young and his associates in the Christian Citizenship Union assert that they influenced enough votes to elect Mr. Seymour Mayor of Newark. There is something in that, especially when it is considered that such a stalwart Republican as John Y. Foster refused to vote for Mayor Lebkuecher because of his refusal Mayor-elect Seymour will have the following ap-

THE STAY-AT-HOMES DID IT. JERSEY CITY DEMOCRATS PROFIT BY REPUB-LICAN INDIFFERENCE.

The results of the charter election in Jersey City were a complete surprise to the politicians of both parties. The Republicans carried only four of the twelve wards for the city ticket, but carried only one for Alderman and split the difference in another ward with the Democrats, as each elected an Al-derman. The Democrats elect two members of the Street and Water Board and sixteen of the eighteen derman. He Behold and sixteen of the eighteen Aldermen. It was the stay-at-home voters who helped the Democrats most. The total registry of the city was 34,039, and the total vote was 23,202, a difference of 10,837, indicating that one out of every three citizens refrained from voting. The Republicans may profit by the reverse, oust the bosses and be in harmony for the important municipal election next spring, when a successor to Mayor Wanser will be chosen, and the control of the Street and Water Board will be at stake.

The election of the two Democrats to the Board will give then a minority representation. The control of the Board of Aldermen will give the Democrats four appointments—the City Clerkship, City Marshal, Building Inspector and Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Marshal, Building Inspector and Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Trinity Church stands at the southeast corner of Seventh and Washington sts., in the best portion of the city, surrounded by fine dwelling-houses. When first olanned, in 1853, it was smaller than it is now; but it answered its purpose then. As the town but it answered its purpose then. As the town additions have from time to time been made to the sacred house during the last seventeen years. The first alteration was made in 1879, when an addition was made to the northeast corner. In 1852 an addition of thirty feet was made in the length of the church, and at that time a chancel and swo fransepts were built. A further enlargement was needed, and in 1895 another extension to it was begun, in memory of John Stevens, former member of the congregation. The baptistery which forms the memorial is chaste in design, elegant in construction and harmonious in taste.

NEW-JERSEY REPUBLICAN LEGISLAT-ORS ALL FAVOR HIS NOMINATION.

"M'KINLEY AND HOBART" THE FAVORITE COM-BINATION OF A MAJORITY OF THE DELE-GATES TO THE STATE CONVENTION

WHICH MEETS IN TREN-

TON TO-DAY.

Trenton, April 15 (Special) .- Scores of delegates to the Republican State Convention, which meets to-morrow, arrived here early this evening. A majority of them are in favor of having McKinley and Hobart named as the standard-bearers in the National Convention, but there is a diversity of sentiment as to what action the State Convention should take in this respect. The leaders are against all propositions to instruct the delegation to St. Louis, out many others are in favor of a flat-footed declaration showing just where New-Jersey stands. The principal reason urged against tying the National Convention delegates down to McKinley and Hobart of the society. The statistics of the twenty-five is that between now and the meeting of the con-vention Harrison, Alilson or some other Western man might forge ahead as the probable nominee and the Jersey representatives would then be handi-capped in their efforts to have ex-Senator Garret A. Hobart named for Vice-President. There is general enthusiasm at the prospect of having a Jerseyman on the ticket Chancery Clerk Thompson names Allison and Hoclares Mr. Hobert to be the most available candi-date for Vice-President in the East, and the only man who can carry the electoral vote in New-Jer-"I am enthusiastically in favor of Mr. Hobart for Vice-President," Assemblyman George Tice says. Assemblyman Alfred Skinner, of Essex, and Asemblyman Robertson, of Passalc, the two leaders of the House, favored Mr. Hobart. "So far as the Republicans are concerned," says Senator Stokes, the chairman of to-morrow's convention, "there is but one choice, and it is that brainy and affable leader, Mr. Hobart. The Republican party in this State should have no choice for the Presidential nomination, except so far as that choice contributes to the nomination of Mr. Hobart for Vice-President. His leadership brought New-Jersey into the column of Republican States, and his nomination for this high office would enroll it there permanently. Mr. Hobart could afford to accept the nomination. It is an honor that, in my memory, no one ever declined."

"I think," says Senator Rogers, "that the New-Jersey delegation should use every honorable means to bring about Mr. Hobart's nomination for Vice-President as a recognition of his long and valuable services to the people in the party.'

Senator Robert Williams, of Passaic; "I do not think there is any doubt that the New-Jersey delegation to the National Convention will do its utmost to aid Mr. Hobart in securing the Vice-Presidential nemination. I have sounded men from all parts o the State and the sentiment seems to be unanimous for adopting such a course. It looks very much to me as if the ticket would be McKinley and Hobart, and there will be no doubt of its elec-Senator Ross sees all of Mr. Hobart's advocate one better and would like to have him named for the first place on the ticket.

Senator Engel thinks that New-Jersey Republicans ought to be proud to secure the honor of fur-nishing the candidate for the high office and he cans ought to be proud to secure the honor of furnishing the candidate for the high office and he knows no one upon whom he would rather see that distinction conferred than upon Garret A. Hobart. "How does Hobart strike me as a Vice-Presidential nominee?" asked Assemblyman Roll, of Union, when the question was put to him. "First rate! I would like to see him Vice-President. I am a great admirer of the gentleman."

Assemblyman Abram Lower thinks that Mr. Hobart will very likely be the nominee if the Presidency goes to the West. "That's what our people are trying to engineer." he added.

Assemblyman Benedict is for McKinley, with Hobart as his running mate.

Assemblyman Duncan—"McKinley and Hobart." Senator Herbert would like to see Hobart holding even first place and Assemblyman Reed, of Somerset, is an equally enthusiastic advocate of this idea. "McKinley and Hobart—Harrison and Hobart—in each of the combinations," says Assemblyman Gledhill, "there is a harmony that appenis alike to the heart and to the head—a blending of forces that makes success unquestionable. Our delegation should not only make it a point to aid Mr. Hobart in attaining this end, but it should also make it a point sharp enough and strong enough to fasten the honor upon him."

Assemblyman Coddington, of Union, believes that the nomination of Mr. Hobart for Vice-President would not only strengthen the ticket, but would in sure keeping New-Jersey in the Republican rank, particularly if McKinley were nominated for President.

ent. With Hobart supplementing McKinley, Assembly-ian Harrison thinks, New-Jersey would give the her ablest men, and believes that his nomination would be particularly acceptable to the rank and file of the party.

"Now that the prospects of Republican success are so bright," quoth Assemblyman E. W. Hicks, "the delegates to the St. Louis Convention should put forth their best efforts to secure the second place on the ticket to a Jerseyman. The nomination of Mr. Hobart would give very general satisfaction, not only in New-Jersey, but in other parts of the country, and his ability and reputation would materially strengthen the ticket and add to the chance of Republican success."

Assemblyman Ludlam expects the New-Jersey delegation to do all in its power to secure the nomination for Mr. Hobart.

Senator Ketcham, of Essex, thinks that the position New-Jersey has assumed in the last three years and her solid Republican delegation in Congress entitle her to recognition at the National Convention.

Convention.

Assemblyman John King is an enthusiastic supporter of Mr. Hobart. In fact all the Republican Senators and Assemblymen spoken to seem to feel the same way, and the delegates on hand here tonight appear to entertain similar gentiments.

MOORE APPOINTED PRISON KEEPER. Trenton, April 15 .- Governor Griggs to-day appointed ex-Postmaster Samuel S. Moore, of Eliza-beth, as head keeper of the New-Jersey State Prison. The term of office is five years, the salary $3,500 a year and the perquisites about $2,000 more.

David A. Pell, of Bergen County, who was named for the place several weeks ago, declined it. Governor Griggs also to-day appointed Henry Huston as Law Judge of Sussex County, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James F. Conklin. SENATOR SEWELL ON INSTRUCTIONS. Washington, D. C., April 15 (Special).-Senator Sewell says New-Jersey Republican conventions do not instruct the delegates to the National Convention. The delegates always carry out the will of their constituents. The State Convention to-mor-row will adopt, he thinks, a plank advocating sound money and another favoring a fair protective tariff. Senator Sewell will be at the Convention and prob-ably all of the Representatives in Congress also.

MRS. BENTLEY'S TROUBLES.

SHE SAYS HER FORMER ADMIRER PAWNED THE SILVERWARE WITHOUT WARRANT.

The troubles of the Bentley family, which have been before the Court of Chancery for several years, were continued yesterday before Vice-Chancellor Pitney in Jersey City. The fact has developed that the widow's admiration for George P. Wheedon, the cause of the family disagreements, has vanished, pawning the silverware. Peter Bentley was a wellof one of the early settlers, and inherited a large tract of valuable land, a part of the old Bentley farm. He executed a will leaving all his possessions to his wife, made her sole executrix, and stipulated that she need not make an accounting. The only restriction was that she was not to marry again. He left six children. He died six years ago, and for four years the family lived contentedly. Mrs. Bent-ley, although in the prime of life, had a fondness erable money in fitting herself for the stage. Wheedon was an amateur actor, and became a favored caller at the home of Mrs. Bentley. He had no income, but dressed well. Mrs. Bentley was rapidly disposing of her property, and the oldest child, the wife of Warren Dixon, a lawyer, became suspicious, and concluded that the widow was selling the property and converting it into cash.

When the widow announced jestingly at a social gathering at her home that she contemplated becoming Mrs. Wheedon it alarmed the three children who had attained maturity, and they appealed vent the dissipation of the estate. Action was then instituted to deprive the widow of the custody of the three children under age, because she was an improper custodian, and then foilowed egal steps to remove her as executrix. This is now pending. In the early days of the legal conflict, Peter, a son, had a fight with Wheedon, which resulted in Wheedon's arrest. The widow stood by him and against her children. It had been testified to, during the present hearing before Vice-Chancellor Pitney, that Wheedon had pawned the widow's jewelry and all the silverware. The widow admitted that Wheedon took her jewelry with her consent, but not the silver, which was a gift to her husband from a client. vent the dissipation of the estate. Action was then ver, which was a gift to her husband from client.

The Vice-Chancellor was amazed when the pawning of the articles was told and questioned the widow. She became nervous and pale when he bluntly asked if she thought affection allowed Wheedon to pawn the silver and jewelry.

"I gave him my jewels, but, I did not give him the silver," she said.
"What," exclaimed the surprised Vice-Chancellor, "did he take away the silver and pawn it without your authority?"

"Yes," she whispered.

Mr. Collins, her counsel, then asked: "What did Wheedon do with the money?"

She faltered and added sadly, "He kept it." Then appealingly exclaimed, "What was I to do, Mr. Collins I couldn't help it?"

THE PASTOR CHASED HIS WIFE.

HE ACCUSED HER OF STEALING, BUT THE POLICE LET HER GO.

Morristown, April 15 (Special).-Mrs. Israel Derricks, wife of the pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, of Morristown, rushed into Police Headquarters this morning and demanded protection from her husband. There has been trouble between the dominie and his wife for some time, and she has been trying to induce him to give her money, with which to go to her home in New-Orleans. This morning she discovered some money ated it when her husband appeared and caught her in the act. She rushed from the room, out into the street and uptown, her husband in close pursuit. When the couple arrived at Police Headquarters there would have been trouble but for the intervention of Officer Meeker, who was on duty. The pastor made a charge against his wife for stealing, but Justice Stillwell refused to entertain the charge of the ground that a wife cannot steal from her husband. Then the dominie said it was church mone, that she stole, but that contention was not accepted. After much talk on both sides, the wife was persuaded to return the money. in a tin box under the bed, and had just appropri-ated it when her husband appeared and caught her
